Forecast For The United Kingdom
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Monday 06 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Hot sunshine for many on Tuesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Rather cloudy across northwest Scotland with some light rain or drizzle. Clearer skies elsewhere with a few fog patches forming. Rather warm and muggy, especially in the south and southwest.

Tuesday:
Starting cloudy with a little drizzle across northern and western Scotland, but cloud breaking later. Elsewhere, morning fog clearing to leave plenty of hot sunshine.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Fine, hot, and sunny weather breaking down from the southwest as showers and thunderstorms arrive and transfer northeast. More persistent rain in extreme north and northeast. Remaining warm, especially overnight.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.